Prevent Identity Theft

You can help protect yourself and your accounts from identity theft by following a few simple steps. Listed below are a few helpful suggestions on keeping your personal information safe.

- Don't provide account information or any personal information in response to an unsolicited e-mail, text, or phone call. Remember that the credit union would never call, text, or e-mail you asking for your account number or password.
- Keep your personal information personal - It is a good idea to shred any documents like statements that contain account numbers or personal information. Never just throw these documents in the regular trash.
- Review your account statements - Look for any unexplained activity on your account.
- On your computer - When you are done accessing your account online be sure to logout completely from the web site.
- Sign up for account e-mail notifications - Our online banking product has a feature that allows you to request e-mail alerts of activity on your account. You can be notified when checks clear, if you have a withdrawal or deposit, or when your balance changes. It is an easy way to keep track of your account every day.
- Review your credit reports - you can order a free copy of your credit report once a year. Check it over for any accounts that look suspicious or that you did not know existed.

Monitoring your accounts regularly is a good way to help stop identity theft. If you should ever notice any suspicious activity on your credit union account please report it immediately by calling 610-0200.
